

Visiting Troy

Troy is located about 100 miles from the towns of Ely and Tonopah. The site is in an isolated canyon several miles from paved highways or service facilities. A high clearance vehicle is strongly recommended.

Humboldt - Toiyabe National Forest

For more information on Troy and other National Forest sites, please contact the Ely Ranger District Office (located at 305 8th Street), P.O. Box 539, Ely, NV 89301. www.fs.fed.us/htnf/ (775) 289-3031

Other Area Historical Sites

- ◆ Central Nevada Mining Museum, Tonopah
- ◆ Tonopah Historic Mining Park
- ◆ White Pine Public Museum, Ely
- ◆ Nevada Northern Railway Museum, Ely
- ◆ East Ely Railroad Depot State Museum
- ◆ Ward Charcoal Ovens State Historic Park

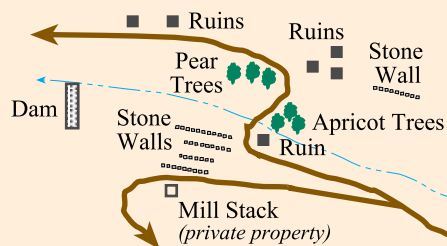

Take only Pictures, Leave only Footprints

National Forest lands are protected by the Archaeological Resources Protection Act and other federal laws. Removal of artifacts or damaging, defacing or destroying historical features is a felony. Please help us to preserve our heritage.

Private Property

Many mine areas, and part of the Troy site, still retain private holdings. Please respect private property.

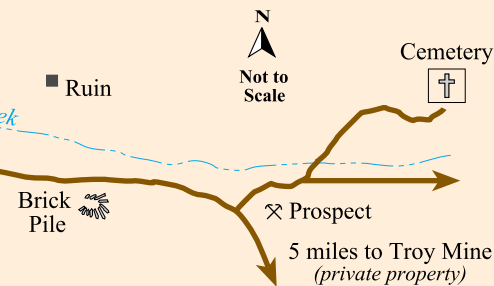

← 3.5 miles to Railroad Valley

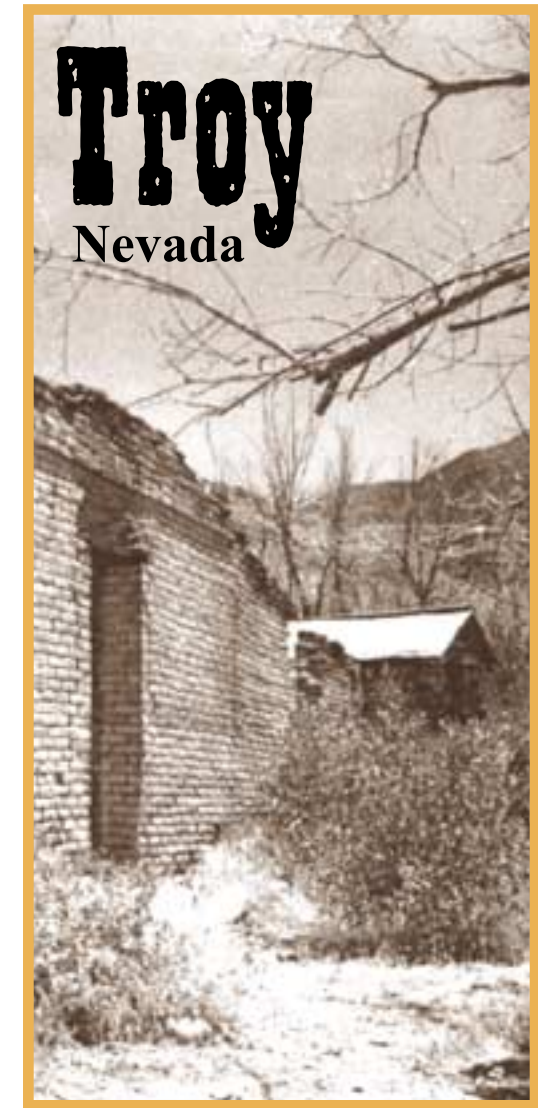

Troy Historical Site

Mine Sites are Dangerous

Stay alive! Stay out of open mines and away from shafts or pits. They may be very unstable. Avoid them! Tell someone where you are travelling.

The Historic Mining Town of

A Failed Dream or a Successful Scheme?

Humboldt -Toiyabe
National Forest

www.fs.fed.us/htnf/

Printed on recycled paper

Troy once had a population of around 70. The town's buildings included a 20-stamp mill (for processing ore), a post office, houses, a store and a boarding house. Today, not much remains of Troy. A few decaying ruins still stand as testimonials to the town's short-lived existence.